

Cover Letters

A cover letter is essential for the job application process. It provides a personalized introduction to your resume, highlights your qualifications, and shows your enthusiasm for the position.

Your cover letter should showcase your skills related to the job. It should also highlight characteristics of the job that you find interesting.

Be enthusiastic in your cover letter! You should catch the reader's attention and convey your enthusiasm for the position.

Once your resume and cover letter are fine tuned for the position, submit your application. If you have a connection at the company, inform them that you have applied.
